The real feature of interest in the day's North American.... Northern Pacific.... business was in the bond market, where Pa. R. The bond market could hardly be called active, but it was more active than it has been, and this is an indication of no small importance unan indication of no small importance under prevailing circumstances.

As much attention as to anything else was attracted in the stock market to-day by the greater strength shown by the Amalgamated Copper shares. All the options for the future delivery of wheat rose very decidedly to-day, Tramp chiefly because of a violent advance in United wheat in the foreign markets and by heavy takings of the staple here by exporters. Wall street will in due time doubtless, come to appreciate the true meaning of developments such as the foregoing, which are likely to be repeated and emphasized during the remainder of 2s, registered, 1930.

The corn market was also strong today, in sympathy with that for wheat, although there were some indications or light frost following the recent heavy rains in the northern portion of the corn belt. It is the consensus of opinion, however, in the highest circles of the grain trade that the corn crop is now so far advanced as to be damaged little, ever by the onset of heavy and general frosts.

The extreme dullness in the stock market to-day served to make the strength 74% in the bond department stand out all the America more prominently, and many brokers, who before had taken the ground that they could not see any signs of a real improvement in the outlook for securi-55½ ties were encouraged by what they were inclined to regard as a "beginning at the right end."

In a dull market there is little oppor tunity for the tipster to ply his trade, and although the word to buy Atchison was passed around, and the merits of the stock were pretty generally recognized, the advice to get aboard was disregarded, because there was not enough activity in the stock to afford a fair spec

There was some profit-taking, as was natural after such Columbia a rise as the market had had, and the Commercial 18% way this was accomplished without causing anything more than slight repressions in prices made it fairly evident that the buying was at least as good as the Metropolitan

It is improbable that any action will be taken on the Anaconda dividend before Columbia October 1. It had been expected that di- Washington rectors would act upon that matter next week, but from the same cause that It Southern Public Service Corporation was impossible to secure a quorum last Tuesday it will be impossible to secure | 8 one later in the present month. More Cheerful Tone in Market Aseribed to Easier Money Conditions. Traction Shares, Gas, and Mitchell Mining Exhibit Strength-Greene-Cananea Mine Reduces Output.

Business was in larger volume and attended with more confidence in bidding and buying yesterday on the Washington Stock Exchange than for several days past.' After call, the holders of stock and those who had orders to fill really got together, and, for Washington, some good trading resulted. In almost every nstance prices were a shade better than the previous day, and the situation at the close was most hopeful. Transac tions for the day were $2,000 in bonds and 1,436 shares of stock.

The better tone of the market is probably traceable to a gradual letting up in the interest rate on money at the banks and the letting loose of funds on good securities, as the result of better financia conditions in New York. Word was received in Washington yes erday that George Mitchell, recently de posed from the presidency of the co s expected that the question of handing over the property of the company to the sew management will be before the di ectors by the last of next week.

Considerable business was recorded yes terday in Washington Gas. The sales were at 711-4, with two options at 72 and one at 711-2. In view of the great denand for the stock known to exist, trading is of small consequence, inter-ested brokers simply picking up a few hares here and there in the hope of fill ng their orders in part before the stock toes higher. Rumors were current yeserday that the company has indicated a surpose to make some kind of announce lays, which is now awaited with much
